DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 11-14, 16, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Takane et al. of record.

Takane (Figs. 1a-2b) teaches a nonreciprocal device including: center electrodes and insulating films (e.g. 32); a conductive pattern on the bottom of the ferrite (2) (see Fig. 2b); connecting electrodes are on the sides of the ferrite for connecting the top and bottom conductive portions; ~~on~~ the center electrode patterns and the insulating films are alternating, and the center electrodes are contacting both the insulating films and ferrite directly on the top of the ferrite (Claim 11); the device includes a yoke (i.e. a metallic case) and a permanent magnet so as to function as a nonreciprocal device (e.g. see Col. 1) (Claim 12) and can be used for transmitting in a radiotelephone (e.g. see Col. 1, lines 4-11) (Claims 13-14); and ports can be on the sides (Fig. 2a) or top surface (Fig. 1b and 5) of the ferrite (Claims 16 and 18).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 9 is re-joined.

3. Claims 2-9 are allowed.
4. Claims 15 and 17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11-14, 16, and 18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
